Royal Hawaiian Shopping Center Completes Construction on Building “A” Newly Renovated Structure Is Now Fully Leased

One hundred percent leased at completion of construction, Royal Hawaiian Shopping Center’s Building A unveils some of Waikiki’s most appealing retail and dining concepts.

Located on Waikiki’s prominent street corner of Kalakaua Avenue and Lewers Street, Building A has shed its concrete cocoon to reveal a dynamic architectural transformation along with a bevy of exciting stores and restaurants including the new FENDI flagship and the 14,000 square foot soon-to-open Señor Frog’s Restaurant and Bar from Cancun, Mexico.

“Many stores and restaurants are now open. New openings will continue non-stop between now and second quarter 2007 as new and existing tenants complete their exciting store and restaurant concepts,” said Rosalind Schurgin, executive vice president of The Festival Companies, developer of the Center.

Sheraton Princess Kaiulani Welcomes Home Danny Couch The Voice of These Islands

The Sheraton Princess Kaiulani invites guests to experience the romantic sounds of one of Hawaii's most celebrated entertainers, Danny Couch. Danny performed at the Sheraton Princess Kaiulani from 1989 to 1997, and again for a year in 2001. Now he has returned and will be performing every Monday and Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the hotel's Ainahau Showroom.

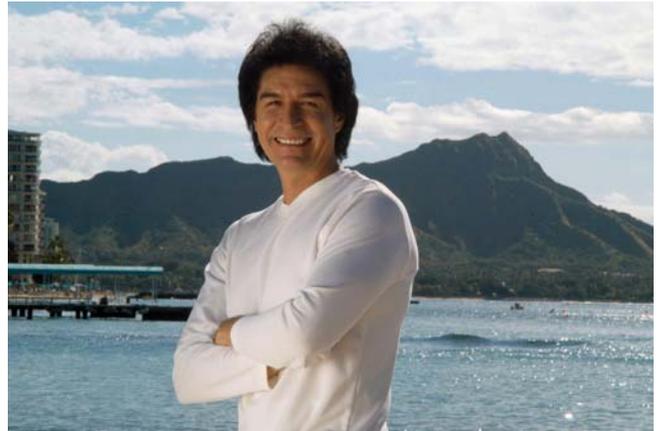

The multiple Na Hoku Hanohano Award-winning local musical artist has come a long way since singing in the choir at Nanakuli High School, and even as a standout with the Alii's where he sang lead for hits like "Lady You're My Rainbow" and "Here I Am." The golden-voiced artist has performed around the world and in long-running shows in Waikiki to rave reviews, and has the most recognized "anthem" dedicated to promoting the State of Hawaii, his global hit "These Islands."

Couch already has his own record label and production company. Now Hawaii's premiere vocalist is taking total charge of his professional career with the opening of his own self-produced show.

Danny Couch – The Voice of These Islands is a musical journey of Hawaiian, contemporary, and classic songs done in Danny's own, inimitable style. "I just felt the time was right to go on my own after a career of working for others," said Couch. "I am truly grateful to everyone I've worked with over the years. I have learned so much and feel very blessed for all they've shared with me, and so thankful to all of my fans who have followed me wherever I've been. I look forward to seeing them at the Ainahau Showroom!"

Four beautiful dancers and a house band any performer would envy complement the musical journey that Couch takes the audience on, weaving back in time to the present, crossing oceans, and returning to our magical shores. John E.K. "Kahoa" Akaka II plays drums, Heminway Jasmin is on keyboard, Bobby King holds down the bottom on bass, and Leonard Loo rounds out the crew on keyboard. Watch the lovely hula performed by dancers Kehaulani Christian, former Miss Hawaii; Leila Fernandez, former Miss Oahu-Hawaiian Islands; Brook Hasegawa, former Cherry Blossom Queen; and Sherri Thomas, former Miss Hawaii International.

Couch's vocal talent allows him to tell a story through song, as he caresses each note lovingly. Listening to Danny is an emotional experience. E komo mai! Come on the journey! And you will discover why Danny Couch IS...the Voice of THESE ISLANDS!

Danny Couch – The Voice of These Islands debuted on Wednesday, April 4th, and continues each week as follows: Mondays & Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. (Seating at 7:00 p.m.), Ainahau Showroom, Sheraton Princess Kaiulani Hotel, Mezzanine (take the escalator from the Lobby).

The dinner show runs $69.50 with dinner beginning at 5:30 p.m. Dine at the hotel's Pikake Terrace Buffet or Momoyama Restaurant, followed by seating at the showroom at 7:00 p.m. The cocktail show is $38.00 and begins seating in the showroom at 7:00 p.m.

Honolulu Zoo Receives Accreditation to 2011

Mayor Mufi Hannemann has announced that the Association of Zoos and Aquariums has renewed the Honolulu Zoo's accreditation through March 2011. "As a strong supporter of the Honolulu zoo as a councilmember and now as mayor, I am very pleased to make this announcement," said Hannemann. "This accreditation confirms that our Department of Enterprise Services, under director Sidney Quintal, is doing a good job managing the Honolulu Zoo.

"The AZA bills itself as 'America's leading accrediting organization for zoos and aquariums, and accredits only those institutions that have achieved rigorous standards for animal care, education, wildlife conservation and science.' The Honolulu Zoo is meeting those standards," said Hannemann.

A year ago, the AZA tabled accreditation for the Honolulu Zoo because of maintenance and staffing issues. "In effect, that put us on probation," said Quintal. "We addressed the issues identified by the accreditation team, cleaned up the facilities and filled empty positions. We're told the AZA board took less than five minutes this week to vote full accreditation for Honolulu."

The Honolulu Zoo occupies 42 acres in Kapiolani Park and has more than 1,000 animals. Its mission is "to inspire the stewardship of our living world by providing meaningful experiences to our guests." In the past two years, it completed three major construction projects: an orangutan habitat, a state-of-the-art veterinary clinic and the new Keiki Zoo.

Honolulu Mayor Mufi Hannemann welcomes keiki to the grand opening of the Keiki Zoo in March 2005.

The delectable three-course menu will start with a spring greens tossed salad with raspberry vinaigrette, honey glazed walnuts and feta cheese, and a choice of one of two entrees – lamb chops stuffed with marinated black cherries, apricots and cranberries, and roasted with a port wine and wild blueberry demi-glaze sauce, or pan seared scallops over a confit of leeks and spring tomato butter sauce. The meal will finish with a strawberry tartlet consisting of jumbo strawberries and Devonshire cream arranged in a sugar dough shell, and garnished with shaved dark chocolate and mint.

Musashi, Hyatt's traditional Japanese restaurant, will be serving three different kama'aina Easter dinners from April 6 – 8 for $35 per person. At the Teppanyaki grill, Musashi offers the "Teppanyaki Trio" dinner, starting with the sake-marinated breast-of-chicken salad, followed by a steak, prawn and scallops entrée with assorted vegetables, miso soup, pickled vegetables, rice and hot tea. The dessert is a local favorite – a fresh fruit tart with Chantilly cream. Musashi's "Family Style" dinner is a feast for families of six or more, with a sake marinated breast-of-chicken salad, namasu, combination sushi platter (California maki and nigiri), sashimi, shrimp and vegetable tempura, USDA prime New York teriyaki steak, hibachi-style (prepared at your table) scallops, chicken and vegetables, soup, pickled vegetables, rice, hot tea and the delectable fresh fruit tart with Chantilly cream dessert. 24-hours advance notice is required to prepare this menu. Musashi's "Complete Dinner" offers some of the restaurant's finest choices, starting with a selection of one of the following appetizers: maguro nigiri sushi, California maki sushi, vegetarian maki sushi or tako sunomono. This is followed by the sake-marinated breast of chicken salad, and a combination entrée featuring Alaskan king crab legs and a selection of one of the following: USDA prime New York teriyaki steak, shrimp and vegetable tempura, teriyaki chicken, butterfish misoyaki, or sashimi. A second entrée selection may be added for $12.00. The meal also includes kobachi, miso soup, pickled vegetables, rice, and hot tea, and finishes with a fruit tart with Chantilly cream.

Mayor Hannemann & Niketown Kick-Off the 2nd Annual Nike Reuse-A-Shoe Campaign

Thursday, April 5th, At 11:30 A.M., At Honolulu Hale

Mayor Mufi Hannemann and Niketown will be kicking off the exciting, 2nd annual Nike Reuse-A-Shoe Campaign for Earth Month (April) on Thursday, April 5, at 11:30 a.m., at the Mayor's Conference Room, Honolulu Hale, 3rd Floor.

Over a decade ago, Nike began collecting post-consumer athletic shoes of any brand and grinding them up to create a range of raw materials under the Nike Grind (NG) brand. These materials are used to make new sport surfaces like soccer fields, basketball courts and playground surfacing. Not only does it help Nike's long-term goal of waste elimination, but it also increases physical activity in youth around the world.

As someone who promotes both physical fitness and recycling, Mayor Hannemann felt this was truly "out-of-the-(shoe)box" thinking!

For the second year, Niketown is partnering with Mayor Hannemann and the City and County of Honolulu, along with major sponsors, to collect old sports shoes to recycle into sports surfaces - instead of ending up in our landfills. Over 6,000 pairs of shoes (that's 12,000+ shoes!) were collected in our inaugural campaign last year (see photo, attached), and we are aiming for 20,000 shoes this year!

Mayor Hannemann and Niketown will share ideas on how everyone can get involved to help us reach our goal, as well as have a lot of fun doing it! Samples of Nike Grinds and the process of turning old shoes into play surfaces will be shown and explained. This is kind of a kick-off "pep rally" so that Honolulu will get into the spirit of recycling their old sports shoes rather than tossing them into the trash.

Even the Honolulu Fire Department has gotten involved in a big way. They started collecting shoes at their stations around the island months ago and will be dropping their collected shoes off at our drive-through curb on Kalaimoku Street on April 29th, from a fire engine - what a great visual that will be! Our military volunteers will be unloading the shoes at the curb to add to our "shoe mountain." (ETA to be announced.)

Some of the activities going on throughout Earth Month include:

- School Shoe Recycling Contest - Collect old shoes and your school can win a customized Nike equipment package for your school. Get your whole school, families and your community involved - and start early! (All schools should have received their Reuse-A-

Kawika Regidor (3) points to the pile of over 6,000 pairs of shoes collected at our Reuse-A-Shoe Community Recycling Day at Niketown last year. This year's goal is 20,000 shoes. (photo by Mona Wood)

Shoe packets in the mail. If not, they may call Niketown at 808-983-5804, for a packet.)

- Creative Recycled Kicks Contest - Kids and grown-ups can win a new pair of Nike shoes by turning an old pair into something useful or a piece of art. The contest will be held at our main event on April 29th. (See photo of one of the winners from last year's contest, attached)
- Save on a new pair of shoes at Niketown - Bring in any brand pair of athletic shoes to recycle throughout April, and get a discount coupon worth $10 off on a new pair of Nike footwear. (Minimum $50 purchase. Only one coupon per purchase, not to be combined with any other offers.)
- Reuse-A-Shoe Community Shoe Recycling Day at Niketown, April 29th, 9 a.m.~2 p.m. - Help us build a huge "mountain" of shoes for recycling, visit our environmental displays, listen to music, enjoy free refreshments from Jamba Juice, and find out who won the school and Creative Kicks contests!

More info and details on the Nike Reuse-A-Shoe Campaign can be found at www.nikereuseashoe.com, or the public may call (808) 983-5804, or e-mail nikerashonolulu@nike.com.

The Honolulu Star-Bulletin & MidWeek, Matson, King Kalakaua Plaza, Westpac Movers, and Jamba Juice are also supporting this community recycling event.
